

Call for Papers 11/1/2024

Deconstructing Differences through Anthropology of Disability, Gender, Ethnicity and Religion

"The purpose of Anthropology is to make the world safe for human differences."

Ruth Benedict

The fundamental understanding of human diversity constantly raises questions about differences, otherness and their recognition, respect and social acceptance. The thematic focus of this issue of the Journal Anthropology/ Антропология. Journal for Sociocultural Anthropology aims to address issues related to differences - the social construction of differences, the experience of differences, the social and cultural meaning of differences, the social actions which can bridge differences.

We welcome papers providing ethnographic and anthropological studies on the following topics (separate or intersected):

- ✓ Disability - politics, relations, experience, agency
- ✓ Gender - politics, identity, backlash, experience, agency
- ✓ Ethnicity - politics, identity, experience, agency
- ✓ Religion – identity, politics, experience
- ✓ The ethnic, religious, and gender differences and their political use in contemporary uncertain world

Deadline for manuscript submissions: July 1, 2024.

Deadline for publications: August 30, 2024.

Papers are reviewed anonymously.

Please send the manuscripts in Bulgarian or in English to the following e-mails: journal.anthropology@swu.bg and to Elena Petkova enapetkova@gmail.com – volume guest editor.